Picture News

Each week classes look at a 'Weekly Picture News' story. Let's have a look at this week's story...

How has travel changed our lives?

Let's look at this week's story

Within the next ten years, people may be able to travel between London and Sydney in just two hours by journeying through space on a sub-orbital flight. The current length of a traditional flight between London, UK, and Sydney, Australia, is at least 20-22 hours and usually entails a stop-off to refuel along the way. A sub-orbital flight involves launching a spacecraft to an altitude above the Kármán line (the boundary of space).

Reflection

Travel has transformed the way we live our lives, allowing us to meet others, try different food and visit new places all over the world. As technology advances, the ways and means to travel can become quicker and easier.

Mutual Respect and Tolerance

Having access to travel can help us learn more about people living in our world. Life is not the same for everyone and we should respect that.

Protected Characteristics

Where and how people choose to live may affect the modes of transport they use. We should never be treated unfairly because of how we choose to live.

UN Rights of a Child

If a child lives in a different country than their parents, governments must let the child and parents travel so that they can stay in contact and be together.

Useful vocabulary

Attitude

How people see or feel about something or someone. Showing a respect for an attitude above the border is the boundary of space.

Commercial

Having to be used to make money. An essential part of the world.

Monogamy

Very good quality, especially in a relationship with the earth. Period of monogamy in various forms and levels.

Sub-orbital

Having a flight path that is below the outer atmosphere of the earth. It is a flight path that is below the outer atmosphere of the earth.

Traditional

Having existed for a long time without changing. The current length of a traditional flight between London, UK, and Sydney, Australia, is at least 20-22 hours.

Transformed

Changed or converted. Travel has transformed the way we live our lives.

Pyjamarama Day

Year 3 celebrated Pyjamarama day yesterday by reading a book of their choice in the log circle, playing games to find out which books other children had read using different criteria (have you read a book that...), as well as listening to a whole class story. Here are some pictures of them enjoying the day.

Sports day

What a fantastic day we had yesterday for sports day. It was so lovely seeing the children enjoying themselves, cheering on their team mates and demonstrating their determination and resilience.

Thank you to parents/carers for attending and cheering the children on. It was lovely to see so many of you there and we have had some lovely feedback on the day and the activities that were held. Thank you to staff for organising the event. It was also lovely to see a couple of our governors supporting us and the children. Here are some photos from the day.
